Simplify Learning.
Maximize Impact.

September 2025

degreed

Enterprise organizations spend an average of $1,500 per employee on L&D each year—millions of dollars annually.[1]

An estimated 80% is spent on buying or building learning content—up to 50x more than the budget for software.[2]

Yet most learning content is underutilized, duplicative, and difficult to navigate.

Is your learning content helping your employees build the skills they need—how much is just added noise?
